Beef and bacon are needed overseas in increasing quantities. They are foods especially suited to the requirements of the men who are fighting and those doing heavy physical labor. The scarcity of fodder and the greater call for meat have compelled the Allies since the beginning of the war to kill more than 33,000,000 head of their stock animals. Thus the source of their meat is decreasing. At the same time the needs of the soldiers and war workers have increased the necessary meat consumption.

Imports from Sweden, Denmark and Holland have been reduced to a very small amount, whereas all three countries formerly supplied large quantities. The United Kingdom is thrown more than ever upon the North American conditions for these commodities. Moreover, the entrance of the United States into the war has greatly increased the requirements of both beef and bacon for the United States Army.

The soldiers need beef and bacon and they can only be supplied if the civilian populations of Canada and the United States will reduce their consumption of these foods. A saving of one ounce of meat per person per day, and increased production of beef and bacon on this continent, would go a long way towards meeting the Allies' requirements.

Will Not Abandon Voluntary System

President Tweedie, of the Patriotic Fund, Calgary, informed a deputation this week, that the Patriotic Fund throughout Canada had decided against abandoning the voluntary system of securing contributions. He was not in sympathy with that decision. He also informed them that the schedule for dependents had been increased about twenty per cent, but that there would be no increase to women without children. The increase became effective November 1st.

Rev. C. H. Huestie, D.D. Alberta and British Columbia secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, was in the Pass this week. He addressed a meeting at Bellevue last night on the subject: "The War and National Ideals." He will repeat this popular lecture at Coleman tonight.

An Extra From Cowley

Presentation to Mrs. W. C. Robinson

The carpenters have arrived and are busy erecting the new telephone station across the street from D. R. McIvor's store.

The sympathy of the community goes out to Mr. and Mrs. John Coghill, who have recently lost a sister and brother, Mr. Coghill's brother being killed in France.

Cowley is losing two of its "old timers" in the persons of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Robinson, who are about to move to the Coast. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson have lived in this vicinity some eighteen years. Coming as they did when there were few settlers, they have seen the district develop until now there are but few idle quarter sections on the Cowley flat.

Mr. Robinson held his sale of stock, implements and household effects on October 18th, but the auctioneer finding it impossible to sell all in one day announced that he would sell the stock on Friday afternoon. Notwithstanding the rough weather, good crowds attended both days, the proceeds of the sale amounting to almost eight thousand dollars.

The Women's Institute, an organization whose twenty-two members are doing a great deal towards helping along the Red Cross and Belgian Relief work, held their annual dance on Friday evening, October 26th. The Fletcher Creek orchestra furnished the music, and although the crowd was not as large as other years, those attending had a good time. The Institute members took advantage of the occasion to present Mrs. W. C. Robinson with a gold pin. The presentation was made by Mrs. Morrison, while Mrs. D. R. McIvor read the following address:

"Dear Mrs. Robinson—It is with feelings of regret that we learn that you are about to leave us. Joining the Institute as you did at our first meeting you have always been a most willing and active member. As well as this, you have been vice president and president, which offices you have filled very creditably. As the Women's Institute has a part in every province of the Dominion, what is our loss will be gain to someone else, as we feel sure that you will not be long in affiliating with the institute in the province of British Columbia, to which you are going."

"As a parting greeting we ask you to accept this little pin, not for any intrinsic value it may possess, but because to us it holds a double meaning. The centre, which is the crest of the Canadian Army Service Corps, reminds us of the part you have taken in the great world struggle in sending two of your sons to do their bit in protecting our homes and country, while the friendship circle we hope will remind you of the many pleasant times we have spent in our circle—The Women's Institute."

"That your boys may be spared to return to you, and that you will find many true friends in your new home is the wish of your fellow-members in the Cowley Women's Institute."

"Signed by members of the Cowley Women's Institute."

Mrs. Robinson, who was quite taken by surprise, made a neat speech in reply.

Miners Ask That Government Handle Fund.

We learn that by a vote taken at a meeting of Blairmore Local Union on Sunday last, it was decided that the government should handle the Patriotic Fund, the secretary being instructed to memorialize the government that after a certain date the members of the local U. M. W. of A. would discontinue subscribing voluntarily through the office of the coal company, and that in their opinion the fund could better be administered by the government.

Similar steps were taken recently by locals of the U. M. W. of A. in British Columbia, and while it is known that operating expenses would be greater under government administration, yet it is felt that a government tax levy on property or by poll tax would be the only means by which non-subscribers to the fund could be reached.

The voluntary contribution system has now had about three years' trial, and from all parts of the Dominion come reports of parties with means who are shirking their duty by not supporting the fund which is intended to ensure dependants of the difference between the government allowances and what is necessary for a respectable maintenance.

Sapper Sofron Dobrodry, of Coleman, has died of wounds.

Hallowe'en is Observed

Quakes At Frank Military Hospital

While the kids of Blairmore and Bellevue were busy carrying out their plans for Hallowe'en pranks, and the young folks of Frank were being led to forget all mischief by a means of entertainment provided by Rev. Mr. Young, Miss Hind and others, a most successful Hallowe'en party took place at the Frank Military Hospital on Wednesday night, October 31st, and was attended by all the elite of Blairmore, Bellevue, Frank and Passmore.

The Hallowe'en spirit was evidenced and entered into by everyone. Frolics, pranks, with wet, clumsy hands and black-curdling yells stepped out on the unsuspecting visitors from dark nooks and passages to give that great and glorious feeling of shivering so much desired in such entertainments. The decorations were also typical, consisting of grotesque pumpkins and lanterns, all kinds of witches, cats, devils and ghosts abundant in great profusion, and our own one and only imported "Culbriett" kept the pot boiling by an overflowing fund of humor and repartee. Games, songs and fun followed each other with swift precision, and the climax of the performance was an apple-biting contest, which was severely won by Miss Williams of Bellevue, who was presented with "a valuable prize."

All credit and thanks are due to Nursing Sister Brown for the success of the entertainment, and her indefatigable endeavours are much appreciated. Special thanks also due to Private Scallum and Engineer Kraft for their assistance in decoration.

"Drafted Men"

The Ottawa authorities state that those about to be summoned to the colors should be called drafted men and not conscripts. The desirability of getting away from the latter word has long been recognized, but it is not an easy thing to do. It is worth the effort, however.

The idea must be avoided, that to be called up means to be involved in any disgrace. To be drafted is not equivalent to being a slacker. There will be plenty of genuine slackers among the drafted men, but quite as numerous and perhaps more so, will be those whose enlistment made voluntary enlistment difficult, if not impossible. The state having taken the responsibility of picking them for service they go willingly.

If the spirit in which they answer the call is the right one there is no reason why we should think anything but well of the drafted men. The distinction between them and the volunteers has long since been lost in the British army. Even the young fellow who has been rightly called a slacker in the past receives the chance of making one forget this entirely.

They all become soldiers of the king, all charmers in the glories which his forces have won, and all with an equal opportunity of winning personal distinction. —Edmonton Journal.

Compulsory Service A Success

United States Favour Conscription in 1917 as in 1863.

The United States was not only following the example of Great Britain, France, Italy and Russia in adopting compulsory service. She was profiting by her own experience in the Civil War.

For the first two years of Civil War, the North depended for her men on voluntary enlistment. In 1863 under President Lincoln, without doubt one of the greatest statesmen this continent has produced, conscription became necessary if the North was to prevail. The law was passed and administered with firmness, even to the point of shooting a few who made determined resistance to the enforcement of the Act.

The success of compulsory service in the Civil War warranted its adoption by the United States in the present crisis, with exemplary success. Stern measures have been meted out to those who refused to register.

Every confidence is felt by those in authority that the administration of Canada's Military Service Act will proceed smoothly and events to date are most encouraging.

Good As The Wheat

"Good as the wheat" is an old motto, about as much the last word in meaning as "Safe as the Bank of England." A bag of No. 1 Northern, clean as a whistle of cockle and foxtail, was a symbol of sure value long before gold was known to the world. Wheat has been found in the Pyramids. The Egyptians just about worshipped wheat. The Bible calls it corn; so do the English. But when we say "good as the wheat" we refer to the husk of brown, hard kernels worth by government fixture this year, $2.20. In the memory of living men wheat did "good as the wheat" mean more than does now? Never. A bag of wheat weighing two bushels and a peck (or up in 1917 to just about the value of a five dollar gold piece. But of course no man wants gold for his wheat. All he gets is a check made out in his favor on some bank and signed by the manager of some elevator company or milling concern.
The check is converted into bills or goes on deposit. Good wheat; good paper; nobody asks any questions. Because the company is O.K. and the bank is sound.
If any wheat-seller had any doubts of either he would at once demand something else.

"I sold good wheat," he would say, "I want something as good in exchange." What made the wheat good? The good farmer behind it. A poor farmer can make good seed into poor wheat.

What makes the paper money good?
The security of the corporation whose name it bears. The sounder the corporation, the nearer the paper comes to being as good as the wheat. But even a big company may go "broke." Lack of the corporation is a concern whose guarantee on a piece of paper is better than either. The pledge of the Dominion of Canada to pay any man money for value received is as good as the wheat and as safe as the Bank of England.

The best pledge of the Dominion of Canada to pay is a Canadian Victory Bond; better than checks or bills—AS GOOD AS WHEAT! Suppose you chance that twenty bags of wheat on your wagon, not into a check or note, even sold; but into Canadian Victory Bonds of $50 each, bearing interest at five and one-half per cent. per annum and as negotiable on the market as the best check or the best haul of wheat you ever saw? It's worth considering.

The man with $100 invested in War Bonds is better off than a man with $100 invested in 8 per cent. mortgages. It is up to all who can to buy a bond. Let us try and place this community to the fore in the matter of investing in the coming war loan.

A Kansas paper tells of an incident in connection with the application of the draft in that state which might serve as a warning to Canadians. A man produced a family Bible to show that he was over age. The investigating official took his duties seriously and on going over the names of the other members of the family found that the man had a sister only three months older than he was.

The Best Farm or Ranch Car

YOU would replace your "general utility" team with a powerful, sturdy, Ford car at once, we believe, if you but figured the matter out carefully.

The Ford is especially suited to western conditions and your needs.
It is equal to rough roads, big loads and long distances. These are the very tests to which you will put your car.

A Ford will run your errands for repairs, grease, mail and countless other necessities quickly and cheaply. It will save you weeks of time and money. It will be one of your best investments. It will make your life more enjoyable. You need a car and need it badly. The Ford is the utility car for the Western Farmer.

Babies

The following essay on "Babies," written by a girl in Mr. Pearson's room last week, won first prize:

"Babies are little scraps of humanity that eventually become members of the human race. There are two kinds of babies, girl babies and boy babies; sometimes there are both. In their earliest days it is very difficult to tell one kind from the other, and many promising social careers have been ruined by an inability to distinguish them apart.
The best way to find out which is which is to give the baby a haircut; if he takes it in a boy and if she takes it in a girl.
Babies, like certain kinds of dry goods, are made in black and white and various other colours. This is in order to interlock tendencies. The black babies are sent to the lowest part of the earth because their colour is so fast that it won't fade, and the white babies are sent to the northern part so that there will be no colour to come off when they are washed. Then there are yellow babies, red babies, and brown babies, all placed in an inability to distinguish them apart.
In surroundings where their colour will match the wallpaper. In poor families babies are looked after by parents, but in rich families they are in the hands of nurses, specially selected nurses. In poor families amuse themselves by getting all they can out of their parents and wearing out their clothes. Rich babies spend most of their time in driving in perma-bulances through the parks and introducing their nurses to policemen. Policemen are very fond of fussing over and kissing babies as an evening time, but they very seldom do anything for them after that. When babies get a little older they become girls and boys, and some of them are educated and others are sent to high schools and colleges."

Will Class One Provide The One Hundred Thousand Men?

It will be greatly to the advantage of Canada if the entire quota of 100,000 men to be raised under the Military Service Act can be secured from the first class; that is, from the men between the ages of 20 and 34 who were unmarried or widowers without children on July 6th, 1917.

This is almost self-evident for the following reasons:

It is admitted that, between the ages of 20 and 34, the average man is at the height of his physical strength and is most adaptable to the change of conditions from civilian life; the military service of unmarried men and widowers without children would occasion less distress than that of most others, since they are largely without dependents. Also, it would entail less financial burden for Canada, through separation allowances, etc.

Authorities estimate that, after all proper exemptions have been allowed, Canada should be able to produce from the first class 100,000 men fit for service, so the drain upon the man power of the country will not be severe.

Members of Class One will be well advised to present themselves for examination immediately to the Medical Board in their district. Upon examination as to their physical fitness, they will be placed in one of the following categories:

Category A—If fit for service in overseas fighting units.
Category B—If fit for service overseas in Army Medical Corps, Forestry Battalion, etc.
Category C—If fit for service in Canada only.

If not placed in Category A, the applicant will know that he is not liable for immediate service, but will go to the Post-Office and send in a claim for exemption until those in his medical category are summoned for service.

Where a man, who is placed in category A, feels that exemption should be allowed, an application form can be secured from the postmaster. This form, when filled in, will be forwarded by the postmaster to the registrar of the district, and the applicant will be informed by mail as to the time and place for the consideration of his application by the Exemption Board.

Issued by The Military Service Council.

Mr. Stead's Poems

The day after Lord Kitchener was drowned there was wired from Calgary a striking poem by Robert J. C. Stead which was reproduced throughout the English-speaking world. Two of the verses ran:

But this is better: Let him sleep Where sleep the men who made us free, For England's heart is in the deep And England's glory in the sea.
One only vow above his tier, One only oath beside his bed;
We swear our flag shall shield him here, Until the sea gives up its dead.

This fine product of one of the most dramatic poets in our history has the place of honor in "Kitchener and Other Poems" now issued by the Munsell Book Company for Mr. Stead. There are between fifty and sixty poems in all and though there is considerable inequality in their merit the general high. These dealing with war topics are a permanent record of the utmost value of the dominant sentiment of the west within the last three years. "The Awakening," "England" and "To France" are on the same plane as "Kitchener." There is rare dignity and feeling in the poem which begins:

We little knew thee, France; we thought—And God forgive us that our thought was sin—We thought thee fair without and false within;
And did not seek to know thee as we ought.

We knew the face thou turnedst towards us;
The painted face, the senuous deign;
We held the virtue subtle as thy wine, As cheap and subtle; neighbor, we have erred.

The distinctively western verses like "The Prairie," "The Squad of One" and "Alkali Hall" are in a different vein, but they are bound to have much attractiveness to anyone to whom the spirit and characteristics of the life of the plains have appealed.

Huge Organization Covers Canada

Everything is Ready for Prompt Operation of Military Service Act.

Ottawa, Oct. 31.—The machinery for putting into operation the Military Service Act was started with the proclamation of the Governor-General calling out the first class, which appeared in the Canada Gazette and in all the daily newspapers of the country on Saturday, October 13.

Everything is in readiness now for the reception of reports for service or appeals for exemption. A large organization has been built up, extending from coast to coast, and covering the territory effectively. There are means of finding men for service in the farthest corners of North, East or West.

The first class is composed of all male British subjects between 20 and 34 who were unmarried on July 6, 1917, or are widowers without children. All such men must report for service or apply for exemption on or before November 10.

Severe penalties are provided for failure to do so.

Hollinshead Concert

The programme rendered by the Hollinshead Concert Co. at the opera house on Tuesday night was one of the best ever presented in this district. Every number was a treat, and the Messrs. Redgrave and Harold Hollinshead were beyond expectations in the select tenor and baritone singing. Harold Hollinshead's character delineations were excellent, and he was compelled to return to give encores to the well-merited applause. Gerald Moore's musical interpretations and impeccable technique won repeated applause. The concert was given under the auspices of the Red Cross. Large numbers of people were in attendance from neighboring towns, and all speak highly of the Hollinshead concert.

Why Canada Needs More Money

UP to date the war has cost Canada about $700,000,000.

Canada has spent in Canada over $400,000,000 on her own account.

Canada has spent in Canada on behalf of Great Britain over $300,000,000.

What Canada spends for Great Britain is really loaned to Great Britain and will be repaid or credited to Canada later on.

Great Britain needs so much ready cash to finance her own expenditures at home for herself and for our Allies that she must buy on credit from Canada, and from every other country where she can get credit.

Of course Great Britain's credit is so good that other countries, in order to get her trade, are quite as willing to give her credit as we are in Canada.

Canada wants to help Great Britain not only because Canada wants Britain's trade but because we are Canada and she is Great Britain—both members of the same Great Empire, kin of our kin, our motherland.

For Canada it is both a filial and patriotic duty to supply Great Britain's war needs and remember, her needs are our needs. Also it is in Canada's self-interest to supply those needs and thus keep open a market for our products.

Now, Britain needs our wheat, our cheese, cattle, hogs, and many manufactured articles.

Canada also needs many of these things—between the two it amounts to more than a million dollars a day in cash.

And the producers must be paid in cash.

Neither Canada nor Great Britain could go to a Canadian farmer and buy his wheat or his cattle on credit.

The farmer and all other producers might be ever so willing to give their country credit but they could not do it because they have to pay cash for wages, for rent, materials, etc. They must be paid in cash, or its equivalent.

So Canada says to Great Britain:—"I will lend you the money so that you can pay cash to Canada's producers for what you want."

"I will borrow this money from our own people just as you borrow money from your people."

"I will also borrow from the people of Canada money to pay cash for all the products that Canada, as well as Great Britain, needs in Canada."

That is Canada's practical, patriotic part in helping to win the war.

Without this credit the Canadian producer could not sell to Great Britain, and without these Canadian products the war would be prolonged.

So it is necessary for Canada to give to Great Britain the credit in order that Canada's own producers, who need a market, will have one; and in order that Great Britain which needs the products to win the war, will get them.

Now how does Canada get the money by which both Canada and Britain can pay cash for Canada's products?

By borrowing it from the people of Canada through the sale of Canada's Victory Bonds to be offered in November.

That is why Canada's Victory Bonds are offered to the people—to raise money to help to finish the war.

"Canada must keep her shoulder to the wheel even though it be a chariot of fire," and the way for Canada to keep her shoulder to the wheel is by buying

Your Market

MANY a farmer has been bunched into selling his stock and produce at a ridiculous figure following the blue-ribbon stories of the speculative buyer or his agent. The farmer was NOT in touch with the market; the speculator WAS.

The world's market is the farmer's market. Keep in touch with it. The Herald's market reports are not only good—they are the best obtainable, and include special and exclusive features such as Poole's X-ray and forecast on the world's live-stock situation. Poole is nothing short of a genius and is accepted as an authority the world over. Our Boston Letter on the wool markets is up-to-the-minute and covers all colonial and foreign markets. It is the only one published in Western Canada. The Herald's expert survey of local grain and live-stock markets is drawn from actual contact with buyers and sellers and our special reports covering every commodity that the farmer sells or purchases are compiled from accurate and reliable data.

Guardian of the Seven Seas a Mag-

Ships, ships, ships. Never-ending they seem. Here lies a fast cruiser with three destroyers in a row fast on her side linked together with gangways, for all the world like a humpback whale with its young ones. Submarines of newest design show their rounded backs. Farther on torpedo boats. Signal flags are fluttering among the cobwebby wireless masts. A man's rigging flaps the washing of the whole ship's company. Lights flick and flash here and there—heliograph

The line, as the French have found it convenient to relinquish a section of the line she has taken it upon herself to date, and is still increasing it. The little line cannot be compared like other lines, for the decision on this matter has been allowed to rest with the French, and the extent of the line the British hold is determined by their wish. At this point the author points the condition of the line as "poor exhausted France." ## Huge Program

Some 50 Ships Valued at $25,000,000 For Coast YardsBritish Columbia's shipbuilding program provides for the construction of some 117,000 gross tons of commercial shipping, which will have a total carrying capacity of nearly 185,000 tons. The value of these ships some 50 in all, is in the neighborhood of $25,000,000.While this estimate of construction of tonnage is only approximate, it includes practically every ship of importance in freight-carrying there are, however, a number of small ships being built, such as fish boats, which have not been included. With these the total gross tonnage would be about 150,000.
All the ships forming a part of the present program of shipbuilding are taken in account. Some of the ships are already in the water, some are scarcely begun, but the amount of tonnage given represents definite contracts only."Phew, but it's hot!" said Mr.
Sizzle, mopping his brow. "Where's Bobby?"
"Out flying his kite," said Mrs.

to go fishing, taking his luncheon with him. When he reached the creek he discovered that he had dropped the and hastened back to look for it.

Presently he met a husky negro, who was looking happy and picking his teeth. "Did you find anything on the road as you came along?" asked the gentleman. "No, sah," answered the negro. "I didn't find nothing."
"Could a dog have found it and eat

The Real Naval Problem.

The real problem is to sweep the U-boats from the sea. That is purely a naval problem, and one which the British and French armies for that soldier. The allies must not be asked to fight the moral as well as the military effect that must be produced upon Germany—from the Providence Journal.Paper Clothes
Which Germany Is ThreatenedSome interesting further details are now available about the paper clothing with which Germany is threatened. The "finer" made of paper is very rough, and delicate skins will not be able to stand it.
It is used for shirts and underwear.
German science will no doubt be able to overcome the difficulty before next spring. Paper is now woven into loose and firm stuffs. In its natural color it is used for towels.
It is quite good, we are told, and does not tear in the wash provided that it is not soaked before washing. It is also very useful for linings. It can be had in pure white, which looks like "satisfying." (The extra 2 cents the British origin of the word.)
Very strong blue overalls for workmen have also been made of paper, and even striped and spotted blouses are available for ladies' skirts.
Finally, paper trousers are highly recommended. They are striped, and look very handsome. Moreover, guaranteed waterproof. By the spring whole suits will be on the market, and also materials for men's clothes, which will be so flexible as to fall into graceful folds and deceive all but experts.—London Daily Mail.The Ferment
Of ReconstructionNothing Else Will Matter If We Fail to Win the WarThis ferment of reconstruction is a wonderful thing, and on the whole an admirable thing. But there is one event in which it will come to nothing—so far as this country is concerned. It is the coming of the ferment of reconstruction. If the Germans win. We shall have neither the heart, the enthusiasm, the means, the money, nor the liberty to carry our schemes into effect. Nothing will be left of the ferment but the thing that has been given off, and a black sediment at the bottom of the tank. Meanwhile the world will unquestionably be reconstructed—by the Germans—and in a manner that none of us approves.In that event the future historian will have some comments to make about all this, which will not be pleasant reading to those of us who may live to read them. These hardy people, however, will say, "I spent too much of their time and energy on this business, and too little on bringing the war to the only conclusion that would have given them a chance." He might even go farther and make certain, which would render their eyes rather indifferent in the eyes of posterity. For example, he might say, "quoting Chaplin and verse, that a large number of Britons during the war fell into an evil habit of conducting themselves for their losses on land and sea by a kind of reconstructive delusion." When they lost an ironclad in the North Sea for a position in Flanders, they proceeded forthwith to hold a conference on reconstruction and proposed a new religion. When the casualties were exceptionally serious they began talking about expediency and held a baby week. When Buckingham Palace was captured they caused a league of peace, and so on.
These remarks were actually made in my hearing on other days, and indeed, by a future historian, but by an intelligent young officer newly returned from the trenches. And I imagine that after the war these intelligent young officers, not to speak of the privates, will be asked to deal to say in moulding the verdicts of history. If we lose the war they will come back in wrath and anger, and have made our chief contribution to the war by reconstructing society during their absence, which would look out for ourselves! There is only one way, so far as I can see, of avoiding their anger. And that is to be obvious to be named—L. P. Jacks in Land and Water.A safe and sure medicine for a child troubled with worms is Mother

Rhubarb in the Cellar

To successfully grow rhubarb in the cellar during the winter months the plants must be allowed to remain out of doors until the ground has frozen quite solid and remained so for several days. The earth can then be cut out round the root crown, the roots lifted and placed in a barrel half full of good rich soil, and placed in a cellar where there will be considerable light, and a temperature of fifty or more degrees.
The plant will soon put forth new growth just as if winter was over and the warm spring days had come.
The rhubarb will do little or no good if the earth has not been frozen.Enough rhubarb has been grown in this way from a few plants to supply a large family during several months of the midwinter and latter half of the winter.

Greatly IncreasedBelieved That It Has Direct Relation to High Price of Wheat and PotatoesThe increasingly important part rice is playing in feeding the people of the United States is shown in figures compiled by the United States food administration.
For 1914-1915 amounted to 1,064,205,000 pounds, with a per capita consumption of 13.4 pounds. This was an increase in the 1916-1917 crop to 1,831,590,000 pounds, with a per capita consumption of 17.33 pounds.
The large increase in consumption during the past year undoubtedly has direct relation to the high price of potatoes and wheat.
The rice crop of India for the past year showed an increase of 1,255,000 tons.

Wheat Reserves

India, Argentina and Australia Will Have Large Quantities of Grain to ShipThe exportable reserve of wheat now on hand in Australia is estimated at 135,927,000 bushels; in India 50,338,000 bushels, and in Argentina 26,107,000 bushels. According to the figures received by the United States food administration. These reserves of wheat are three times as long, and the extra tonnage for this purpose cannot be spared. Moreover, the submarine-lifter is about twice as great. Small cargoes of this wheat, however, are not being brought across the Pacific to the western coast, mostly by sailing vessels, and the shipping of wheat, instead, is being handled by the railroads and the Atlantic ports to the allied countries.New wheat crops will be harvested in Argentina in December and January, in Australia in January, and in India in February. The coming Argentina crop is officially estimated at 239,575,000 bushels, a record crop, as against last year's 77,444,000 bushels for last year's crop. The Argentina wheat for future delivery is being quoted at $1.25 per bushel.In Australia sowing for the new crop is in progress, with a heavy sawage of wheat reported. No estimate from India is given other than that the crop is heavy.Asthma Overcome. The triumph

Spools or Heirlooms?

Advertisements very often provide interesting sidelights on matters in Germany. The following extraordinary one appears in the "Dutch Review."
"Large collection of old pictures, Dutch, German, Flemish, Italian, Spanish, French and English, and in addition old Gobelins and rare Pres-sian carpets for sale. Above at present in Germany not far from the Dutch frontier."
The advertisement closes by informing that the pictures are to be dressed themselves to a box number of a firm at Cologne. Has some body tested the matter? Is it not his heirlooms for food or is some unfortunate burglar from Belgium endeavouring to unload his spoils?

The Alcohol Canada Needs

Immense Possibilities for Manufacture of Alcohol for Commercial Use
The demand for Dominion prohibition of the manufacture and sale of liquor is growing in volume. Against it the old cry of "damaging business interests" and retarding economic growth" continues to be heard. It is the only recourse of the whiskey manufacturers.Nevertheless if the liquor men would wise they would prepare for the inevitable change. And in making it they need not lose money.
There is a better way.
Petroleum is badly wanted in Canada at all times. The production is decreasing; the imports increasing. In 1916 292,000,000 gallons of crude and refined petroleum valued at 14,600,000 were imported into the Dominion.Why could not a large part of this be supplied by home-made industrial alcohol? Industrial alcohol for illuminating, cooking and use in internal combustion engines is a good substitute for petroleum.Or take the Canadian imports of gasoline. In 1916 Canada imported 18,322,000 gallons of gasoline valued at $2,635,000. The production of the product is increasing all the time, the available supply lessening. Indeed, it has been suggested that the production of the United States supply of crude oil from which gasoline is obtained be increased.Why should not a substitute be found in industrial alcohol? That product can be readily made from potatoes, sugar, beets, molasses and sawdust.To take the possibilities of the potato alone: According to the Dominion horticulturist, 300 bushels of potatoes can be produced from an acre of good land if the best methods are used. At the price of 21-2 cents a bushel there would be a greater profit to the farmer than in raising wheat ordinarily on the prairies. Furthermore, the potatoes need not be sacked and can be shipped frozen.As to the sawdust, there is a great opportunity in British Columbia for the utilization of this waste material for the production of alcohol. On the coast of the United States produces nearly 700 gallons a day from sawdust and wood waste.It will be seen that there are immense possibilities before the wisdom of the Dominion government in of his capital and plant if Dominion prohibition shall put an end to liquor making.—Vancouver World.

in 1916 in Denmark for the manufacture of margarine, 909 per cent, was imported from the United States.
The total Danish production of margarine in 1916 was 124,781,620 pounds, according to data received by the United States food adminismargarine for butter allowed the ex-exportation going into Germany.Holland too a dairy country. In 1916 produced 306,828,000 pounds of pounds were exported. Of the 154-322,000 pounds of Holland butter

R. L. Norman, editor of the Coleman Bulletin, entered action against Sam Haddfield this week for the recovery of the sum of some $14.00, being amount collected by his little fourteen-year old daughter Eliza for subscriptions to The Bulletin. Eliza decided to enter The Bulletin's subscription-getting contest as a candidate, evidently without realizing that R. L. was hard up for the dough. The little girl worked ardently for several days and was successful in securing a number of subscriptions, several of those subscribing stating that they did not want the paper, but that they would give the amount to help the little girl win the new famous Ford car. Editor Norman desired to take a trip to Calgary and endeavored to get money from the girl by sending her a couple of scolding letters, threatening to place the matter in the hands of the A.P.P. If returns were not in by a certain hour, which is altogether unusual in such a contest, the candidate in her own interest having the privilege of retaining the funds until her amount of votes were worth while turning in. The father and the little girl appeared before the court on Thursday forenoon, and on hearing the evidence the case was dismissed by Justice Disney.

The Greenwood Lodge says: "The grass has been trimmed from the Kaslo cemetery and the grounds beautified, making it a pleasant place to visit the coming of Gabriel and his court. The cemetery is not doing much business, probably owing to a lack of advertising."

A Kansas paper tells of an incident in connection with the application of the draft in that state which might serve as a warning to Canadians. A man proudly of family Bible to show that he was over age. The investigating official took his duties seriously and on going over the names of the other members of the family found that the man had a sister only three months older than he was.

Wedding Bells

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the residence of the bride's parents, Crystal Drive, on Wednesday, by which Frederick Arthur Crawford, of Cowley, and Miss Nellie Comfort, of Blairmore, became man and wife. Only the immediate relatives and friends of the contracting parties witnessed the important ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. H. Peters, of Bellevue. The happy couple boarded the evening train amid showers of rice and confetti, and after a brief honeymoon at Calgary and other points, will return to Cowley, where they will reside. We join with the many friends of the young couple in wishing them years and years of—of—of—bliss.

Your Market

MANY a farmer has been lured into selling his stock and produce at a ridiculous figure following the blue-ruin stories of the speculative buyer or his agent. The farmer was NOT in touch with the market; the speculator WAS.

The world's market is the farmer's market. Keep in touch with it. The Herald's market reports are not only good—they are the best obtainable, and include special and exclusive features such as Poole's X-ray and forecast on the world's live-stock situation. Poole is nothing short of a genius and is accepted as an authority the world over. Our Boston Letter on the wool markets is up-to-the-minute and covers all colonial and foreign markets. It is the only one published in Western Canada. The Herald's expert survey of local grain and live-stock markets is drawn from actual contact with buyers and sellers and our special reports covering every commodity that the farmer sells or purchases are compiled from accurate and reliable data.
